THE DAILY NEWS.

VOL. I.

RALEIGH, N. C. THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 24, 1872.

NO. 172.

GRANVILLE SUPERIOR COURT.—The Fall term of Granville Superior Court, commenced its session on Monday, but Judge Watts, not appearing on that day, the Court was not opened till Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock.

The charge of his Honor to the Grand Jury, was listened to with much interest by the large concourse of people present in the Court House, and said to be by those who heard it, an extraordinary effort. It was the same old charge, with variations.

The effect of these variations was truly wonderful, upon the audience. Some few members of the Bar indulged in almost immoderate laughter, while tears were seen trickling down the cheeks of others; even the stony heart of our old friend Levi Blankinship, was melted to tears, and his ancient bandanna was called into requisition, and decided into the belief that it was owned by some one else, and was performing its service at a camp meeting or a funeral sermon.

After the adjournment of the Court, this same old sinner approached his Honor, on the Court Green, and said: "Judge, I see you have shipped your baggage to the other world. I hope you will soon follow it." This was wrong in Blankinship. The Judge is a good natured, warm hearted man, and as the civil is founded on Divine law, why may he not charge his juries, commencing at Genesis and ending with Revelations, and "live long in the land" to do it.

When the Court adjourned to-day, (Tuesday), not a single case had been tried. The State docket is unusually large, numbering 115 cases; the civil docket comparatively small. The crowd in attendance both on Monday and Tuesday was smaller than ever before known. We observed among the visiting members of the Bar present, Capt. J. J. Davis, of Franklin, Gen. W. R. Cox, W. H. Pace, and C. M. Daboe, of this city. Granville has the largest as also the latest local Bar in the State, with probably the exception of Wake, therefore the visiting members are always small at this Court.

Our Oxford reporter will keep us posted in regard to all items of interest transpiring during the term of the Court.

THE CONCERT AT OXFORD.—We were present at the concert given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church at the "Osborn House," Oxford, on Tuesday night. The spacious dining room of the Osborn House was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and we were pleased to see every seat occupied. We are fond of music, passionately fond of it, especially the quality as rendered by the young ladies at this performance, but upon entering the room we observed a big black in the rear rows of tables laden with every delicacy that tempts the palate. On this attractive scene at least half our attention was riveted.

The Piano solo at the opening piece, though well rendered, failed to draw our entire attention for we surrendered to the vocal solo of "Sing, Birdie, Sing." The programme was well selected and the entire performance a worthy success, reflecting great credit upon the ladies engaged in the concert.

At the conclusion of the concert, the crowd passed into the supper room, where all the substantial as well as all the delicious of the season were provided in ample profusion. We went in with the rest, and made for the nearest table—but we were interrupted by a couple of angelic voices that proceeded from two of the Managers of the repast, who informed us that our reputation had preceded us—that they had heard of our arrival in Oxford, and as soon as a special table had been provided exclusively for us, with the largest dishes, the most savory bivalves and the most tempting viands, and that a special delegation of ladies had been appointed to wait on us, &c. We surrendered. But we have been sick ever since that supper. We are pleased to learn that the efforts of the ladies were successful, and that a handsome sum was realized.

OXFORD.—It was our pleasant privilege to spend two days of the present week in the above named flourishing village, the county seat of Granville county.

Oxford has long enjoyed a meritorious reputation for general thrift and enterprise of its mercantile and business citizens, good schools, pretty girls and its healthy location. After a careful survey, scrutiny and examination we found it just so. We found the merchants live, go-ahead business-like men, handling their large stocks with an ease and familiarity that proves the assertion above. The manufacturers of the place of whom there are many (and the number on the increase) are men of experience and enterprise that attend closely to their business and make it pay.

We observed a large tobacco warehouse just finished by Messrs. Taylor & Son. Messrs. Cooper & Williams have recently put up a smoking tobacco manufactory, and the Buffalo brand has already acquired quite a reputation with consumers.

The schools of Oxford stand at the head of the list in the State, and will compare with any out of it. The Male School of Messrs. Horner & Graves and the female school of Mrs. Grant and Miss Mitchell are both in a flourishing condition, each having as many pupils as the principal can well attend to.

Among the principal institutions of the town that tend in some degree to give it a reputation abroad is its excellent hotel the Osborn House. This house under the present good management ranks among the best village hotels in the State.

We regret that necessity cuts short our pleasant visit to this hospitable town, and that press of business prevented our finding out more about it. We propose to return again at an early day.

See the advertisement of the Piedmont and Arlington Insurance Company in another column. This Company has established a splendid business.

HOW TWO IMMIGRANTS GOT FRIGHTENED.—On the evening of the 10th of October, two young Canadians reached our city in quest of homes for themselves and their parents whom they had left back in the Provinces, with goods and chattels ready packed, awaiting orders to come forward. These two young gentlemen were green, timid and credulous, and asked many—yes many questions about the "Klux," as they termed them and their deceptions. Of course they found wicked ones who pandered to their fears, and told them of horrors, which have never been made public and possibly never would but for the connecting circumstances. They were told of skinning people alive, cutting out tongues of some, and leaving them tied to trees to perish, tying up others by their big toes so that the ends of their fingers could just touch the ground, heading up some in whiskey barrels and pouring hot water in, and bang hold, blowing up the houses of many with gunpowder, thereby destroying whole families, and many other modes of torture never before heard of dreamed of. They swallowed all this and asked for more, which they received in due time by a vulgar demonstration.

After tea they procured the services of a colored guide and protector and went in search of lager and billiards, which they enjoyed until about 1 a. m. Then with segars in mouth quietly walked back to the Yarboro House and took seats out in front to cool off, and at the same time hear the colored individual's ideas of the "Klux," safety of strangers, &c.

Well, the monotony of their quietude was soon disturbed, and they now, no doubt, fully believe that the half has not been told them. The match was struck—the fuse lit—the elements illuminated and the whole earth shook and trembled as if by a mighty earthquake. The Sentinel office was blown up—the brick flew in every direction as thick as hail, breaking out windows—tearing off plank—taking off a large limb just over them and whistling through the air at random.

This was too much for quiet law-abiding, Christian people. They could not stand it, but pleaded for mercy! "Oh, God! save us from the Klux! Klux! Klux!!!" One ran through the window, and both made for their rooms at a speed never before witnessed. One left his hat, which was taken up to the room by the night clerk, who could gain no entrance, but heard a chattering of teeth, and indistinctly the words, "Klux, Klux, Klux."

Next morning at 9:30 they ventured from their room, haggard and careworn, took a hot cup of coffee and went down to the train, and quietly took their seats. One laid down and covered up his face with his hat. The other who tried to present a brave front, sat up and whistled the good old tune, "Home, Sweet Home." They are now

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Hon. D. F. Caldwell, the District Elector, P. F. Duffy and W. W. King, Esqrs., will address the people at the following times and places, viz: Spauldine, Monday, Oct. 28th; Francis, Tuesday, 29th; Preston, Wednesday, 30th, and at a Mass Meeting and Barbecue in Danbury, Thursday, October 31st.

Hons. W. M. Robbins, A. M. Seales, E. W. Pou, State Elector, and others, have been invited to address the Mass Meeting. Every person without regard to party are invited to attend the above meetings, and hear the important issues of the campaign.

IS NORTH CAROLINA ASLEEP?

Our people exhibit a strange apathy in regard to the Presidential election. Our leading public men are not coming up to the full measure of their duty. The County Committees and canvassers are not working as they ought. The consequence is, the masses are lukewarm and careless, and seem to evince but little interest in the result of the contest.

The fifth of November is almost at hand.

Where are the men whose voices have heretofore been heard in every campaign, pleading with our people, instructing them in public matters, arousing them to action, encouraging them to vote, and appealing to them, in patriotic, eloquent tones, to rebuke at the ballot-box the political enemies of the State and the nation?

Every Congressional District and every County in North Carolina should be thoroughly and ably canvassed. A few counties are doing splendidly. We know of several which will give us a stronger vote in November than we received in August. They are better organized, and have Greeley and Brown Clubs in every Township.

But in many counties nothing has been done!

The leaders seem to be asleep. The Executive Committees seem to be asleep. And as a consequence, the people seem to be asleep also.

It is not yet too late to wake up. We can carry North Carolina easily. It is clearly in our power to do so. The only trouble is to get the people out to the election.

The electoral vote of this State may decide the national contest.

Our friends at the North are working like heroes. A new spirit seems to be infused into our ranks in other States.

North Carolina alone seems to be standing aloof.

ARE OUR PEOPLE ASLEEP?

On the North and South of us, the din of preparation is heard. Our Northern exchanges are filled with notes of the campaigns in their respective States—of enthusiastic meetings, of eloquent speeches, and of active, vigorous measures to bring out the entire strength of the Democratic and Liberal Republican parties. In Virginia and other Southern States, we witness the same scenes of excitement and preparation. The most distinguished and eloquent speakers have entered the canvass and are working with unabating activity and zeal.

North Carolina alone appears idle and indifferent.

ARE OUR PEOPLE ASLEEP?

Our vote may elect Greeley. We can secure it for him. If the opponents of Radicalism will come out on the day of election and vote against Grant, the State will be redeemed. If they stay at home, the State will be lost!

Every Democrat and Liberal Republican in North Carolina should vote for Horace Greeley.

Our people do not approve of Grant's Administration. They are not in favor of corruption and fraud in Government officials. They do not endorse nepotism, usurpation and despotism. They do not desire to see the writ of Habeas Corpus suspended in the South. They deplore the evils of martial law. They prefer to see the military subordinated to the civil authority. They ask that the South be no longer oppressed and crushed by hostile legislation in Congress. They protest against the political crimes that have been committed by the Radical party—crimes against civil liberty and the Constitution.

And yet when an election is to be held, the result of which may give them relief from these great hardships, they calmly told their arms in stolid indifference, and exhibit no concern when their most vital interests are at stake!

There can be no relief for our people so long as such apathy continues.

It is time they had waked up! They can yet redeem the State. It is not too late. But the time is short. Less than two weeks remain. Let every voter opposed to Grant attend the election and vote for Greeley. Let us remember the result in August. Judge Merrimon was beaten by a reputed majority of two thousand because our full strength was not polled.

Our people must wake up! The danger is too great—the stake is too dear—the contest too important for them to be longer idle and lukewarm.

It was North Carolina's shame that Judge Merrimon was defeated in the State election. Let it be her glory now to cast her electoral vote for Horace Greeley in November.

OUR PEOPLE MUST NOT BE ASLEEP ON ELECTION DAY! Every man who is opposed to the Radical party, should beat his post. Let there be no shirking—no faltering. Let each voter deposit his ballot for the candidates of Reform and Reconciliation, and all will be well.

THE REFUTATION OF SLANDERS.

The Radical papers keep standing in their columns for political capital, alleged quotations from the New York Tribune, which are attributed to the pen of Horace Greeley. Many of these extracts are abusive of the Democratic party and some of them laudatory of President Grant. Mr. Greeley, in all probability, wrote most of them, but that fact is not material now.

In some instances, however, the charges against him are false, and have been repeatedly exposed and refuted, but are still kept standing in the newspapers.

There is one charge to which perhaps we ought to refer, which Mr. Greeley has denied over his own name, and this is a fair sample of the rest. It is charged by the Radical and Straight out organs that Mr. Greeley in 1861 wrote an editorial in the Tribune, suggesting "the burning of the homesteads of the Southern soldiers and the exposure of their families to cold and poverty in order to compel them to lay down their arms." A Mr. Nelson, of Selma, Alabama, wrote to Mr. Greeley, asking if it were true he wrote such an article. The following is his reply, dated at New York, October 8th, 1872:

"My Dear Sir:—I, I never wrote, nor incited, nor imagined the matter you send me beginning 'When the rebellious traitors are driven from the field,' &c. It was written by one who is now editing a Grant paper, and bitterly hostile to me. It was not published in 1860, as Harper's Weekly asserts, but May 6, 1861, after the bombardment of Fort Sumter.

Yours,
HORACE GREELEY."

AN APPEAL FOR THE SOUTH.

We direct the attention of our readers to an article in another column, taken from the Newark Daily Journal, and headed The Bleeding South.

It is from the pen of a Northern Republican, who has spent two years in our midst since the close of the war, and who knows whereof he speaks.

His letter is a just, manly, true statement, and the appeal he makes in behalf of the South is impressive and powerful. The letter, with the prefatory remarks of the Journal, will be found highly interesting, and will well repay a perusal.

If such sentiments as expressed by "Old Line Republican" should prevail at the North, the South would have no cause to complain.

REGISTER.

Be sure and see that your name is registered in your township before the day of election. Many persons at the last election who did not think it necessary to see that their names were on the lists were deprived of voting. It must not be so in this election.

PAYING THE NATIONAL DEBT?

Grant claims to be paying the national debt. This is done with the people's money, wrong by oppressive taxation and stored away in the United States Treasury. The reduction of the debt amounts to this: All the taxes paid by the people are not stolen but a small part is left by the Administration, and this goes to reduce the national debt. That is all! As for taxes, President Grant draws yearly a salary of $25,000 and pays no tax upon it, while private persons have to pay a heavy tax on their incomes!

The public debt has been decreased only $500,000,000, while the people have paid more than ten times that amount collected and paid in the enormous sum of $2,000,000,000; and less than one-tenth of this has been paid on the debt! What has become of the nine-tenths. And still President Grant claims great credit for paying the national debt!

THE PARTY OF HATE.

The Grant party is the Party of Hate.

It has but one policy—punishment of the Southern whites.

It has but one principle—"Hatred to the South."

It refuses to be reconciled to law-abiding Southerners.

It refuses to shake hands across the bloody chasm caused by the war.

That party is full of bitterness towards the Southern people. It detests us, abhors us, vilifies us, slanders us, hates us.

Grant is at the head of this Party of Hate.

THE DEMOCRATS at the North have long ago smoked the pipe of peace with the Southern whites, and offered to us the hand of friendship.

The Liberals have also shaken hands with us across the "Bloody Chasm."

The Grant party alone still persists in hating and vilifying the white men of the South.

A VOTE for Grant is a vote for Radicalism, for official corruption, for the suspension of Habeas Corpus, for the oppression of the South, for misrule, extravagance and despotism.

A VOTE for Greeley is a vote for peace and reconciliation, for universal amnesty, for pure and honest government and for Constitutional liberty.

THE GREELEY feeling is growing rapidly in Granville. The Liberals expect to make a gain of over two hundred votes in that County.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

The St. Louis (Mo.) Republican is afraid that the State may not give more than 40,000 majority for Greeley and Brown.

General Banks has taken the field for Greeley and himself. His first speech was made at Somerville on Thursday night.

Twelve hundred negroes are registered in Detroit, most of whom live in Canada. Sambo is an irrepressible and ubiquitous voter.

J. W. Horn, candidate of "straight-outs" for Congress in the Milwaukee District, has declined to run, for the benefit of the Grant candidate.

Senator Schurz prophesies that, in case of Grant's election, the country will witness the deplorable results seen in Mexico and South American States.

A club of Greeley men (colored) has been raised in Tarboro, N. C., over 100 strong, where, at the recent election, only fifteen colored votes were cast for the Democratic ticket.

Conkling's re-election to the Senate is warmly opposed inside of his own party. He may not be returned, even should the Radicals get the next Legislature of New York.

Moses W. Field, Republican candidate for Congress in the Detroit District, has ordered 50,000 slips printed, for use on election day. Many a slip between cup and lip, Moses.

If it be true, as assumed, that two-thirds of the 85,000 Germans and 30,000 Irishmen in Illinois who voted for Grant in 1868 have now become supporters of Mr. Greeley, he will carry that State in November.

Mar Island is where in California votes are manufactured by the thousand by coercion of the workmen. But a prominent Republican writes from San Francisco that the State is sure for Greeley by 2,000 majority.

Cameron talks, it is said, of starting a new paper in Philadelphia with a capital of $300,000, to be devoted to the advocacy of his Ring and its interests. He assumes that the Presidential issue in November lies entirely in his hand.

Moses and his party have managed the Legislature and plundered the State Treasury of South Carolina in an alarming extent. And yet all the Grant organs in South Carolina supported Moses, as the Grant organs in Pennsylvania supported Hartman.

The evidence is such that the Augusta journals deem themselves warranted in alleging that the independent candidacy of General DuBois is in virtue of an agreement with Phil. Clayton, the object being to defeat General Wright, the Democratic candidate.

The vote polled in Georgia at the last election has been about 150,000. In 1868, it was 100,000, and the majority against Grant about 45,000. So that it appears the Democracy hold their own, and increase their majority by 15,000, Liberal Republican, black and white votes.

Cassius M. Clay says of the situation: "We live under a despotism impelled by the lowest instincts, tastes, and self-indulgence, which, unlike European aristocracies, share nothing with the people, but absorb all their substance for camp followers who are equally corrupt and vicious."

STATE MATTERS.

MAGNOLIA is rapidly improving. Bishop Gibson was duly installed in Richmond, on Sunday.

The Steamer Waccamaw will be sold in Wilmington Saturday.

CHARLOTTE is to have an ice-machine of Muhl's patent.

The Charlotte Observer now takes the Associated Press dispatches.

The Charlotte Observer says: Mr. W. W. Phifer, Sr., had his hand crushed in a cotton gin yesterday.

The Salem brass band gave an airing on the Fair Grounds at Charlotte yesterday.

A LADY was thrown from a buggy in Charlotte on Monday, by a runaway horse and seriously bruised.

We failed to get our usual supply of weekly papers yesterday, and hence the death of general news items.

A WILMINGTON physician recently ushered four infants into the world and saved the life of a man whose throat was cut, in one night.

JAS. C. STEADMAN, formerly cashier of the Wilmington Star, has been appointed to an office in the People's National Bank of Fayetteville.

J. W. SCHENK, carpet-bag Sheriff of New Hanover, is a defaulter to the amount of $19,476.70. Such are the beauties of Radicalism.

COL. Wm. Johnston, of Charlotte, retires from the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad. Col. J. is an admirable Railroad manager.

The Charlotte Observer says: Remember that Miss Jeannie Patterson whose readings have charmed every audience before which she has appeared, will be here this week.

LIEUT. JOHN C. BAIN, of the Confederate navy, so unjustly imprisoned in New York on the charge of piracy, and afterwards honorably released, is in Charlotte this week.

The Observer, under its new management, has vastly improved in every respect. It is worthy of the support of the business men of Charlotte, and the public generally, and deserves to succeed.

The Charlotte Observer says: A white squirrel will be exhibited at the Fair to-day. It was caught in the woods of Rockingham county. It is a curiosity, and will be found in Floral Hall, in a cage among the flowers.

ELIZA BRANTLEY, a little girl of nine years old, left High Point about ten days ago. Nothing is known of her whereabouts. She has light blue eyes and her face is disfigured by the small pox.

The Charlotte Observer says that a mine of that valuable mineral, Sulphate of Baryta, has been discovered at King's mountain, a few miles from the Air Line Railroad, and is being worked by T. E. Colburn, Esq., of Boston, Mass. The mineral is shipped to Bath, Me.

The Victorian says that a little negro living on J. A. Harris' land, in Chimney Rock Township, fell forty feet from a chestnut tree last Sunday. Broken arm, dislocated elbow, internal injuries and prospect bad for gathering any more chestnuts on Sunday.

The Victorian is informed that Martin Baynard made his escape from Henderson jail on the 18th inst., the day appointed for his execution. It is said that he changed clothes with his wife, who was permitted to see him in the jail, and thus disguised passed out and got away.

The young and good looking Editor of the Charlotte Observer gets off the following:

A deer arrived yesterday, to be exhibited at the Fair to-day. Dears of another and more lovable sort are arriving by every train, to put in an appearance on the Fair Grounds this week.

Jones is, of course, unmarried.

The Danbury Reporter understands that the Commissioners for Stokes county, at their last meeting, resolved to divide the deficiency Tax, levied by the last Board; pro rata among the claimants against the county, the pro rata amount, we understand is one eighth; or $12.50 on the $100. This will embrace all claims prior to the 2nd day of September last. A Poor House is now being built for the care of the poor of this county.

The Victorian says: "If the office-holders of the U. S. are all as well paid for their services as they are in this 7th collection District, they can well afford to spend their money freely for the reelection of their master, Ulysses Grant. The amount collected is $18,751.50, and the officers get for its collection the nice little sum of $16,000.00.

This is pretty fair pay, but the poor collectors ought not to be cheated out of their twenty-seven hundred.

[From the Newark Journal.]

The Bleeding South.
Previous to the war there were few Northern cities which had more intimate and extensive business relations with the South than Newark. Many of our wealthiest manufacturers of today made most of their wealth out of their dealings with the Southern people, and thousands of our working people were supplied with remunerative labor from the same quarter. In Richmond, Charleston, Raleigh, Nashville, New Orleans, and indeed, all the leading cities of the South, our carriage-makers, boot and shoe manufacturers, clothiers, jewelers and a dozen others had their most liberal customers. For our wares the South paid us millions of dollars annually. The war came, and put a stop to this. Seven years ago peace was declared, but our business relations with the South are not restored to even the one hundredth part of their former times. Why is this? Because the Southern people are so utterly impoverished by the rapacious carpet-bag thieves that they are scarcely able to keep body and soul together. The monstrous state of misgovernment there by officers appointed at Washington has wrung from the poor South every dollar it could scrape together and plunged it besides in enormous debt. And this is what you, business men of Newark, you, working men of Newark, are asked to "perpetuate" by Hon. George A. Halsey and the others who are tooting for Grant's reelection! It was urged by our own gallant Stockton that the cry of the bleeding, prostrate and impoverished South was for Greeley as the surest antidote to their woes. Stockton loved not Greeley, but he loved his countrymen, and so he said, "For God's sake do this thing for the South!" We give herewith a communication from a highly respectable Newarker, who, as he intimates himself, spent two years among the people of the South, and is therefore competent to speak of and for them. He is an old line Republican, and four years ago voted for General Grant, believing that when he said "Let us have peace!" he was sincere.

To the Editor of Newark Daily Journal:
Permit me through your paper, as one who has seen and who knows the great injustice and wrong under which the people of the Southern States are suffering from the present partisan system of legislation, to appeal to the good sense and kind feelings, as well as the personal interests of our citizens, and especially those who are engaged in mercantile and mechanical pursuits. Your city is one of the best known throughout the South, and in times past has been connected more closely and derived more benefit from its Southern trade than any other in New Jersey, perhaps as much in proportion to the business as any in the United States. The prosperity of the Southern people is now yours, and will you, for reasons that should be buried far out of sight, because you are rich and flourishing, forget those who have been your oldest and best friends? Will not you, after the close of seven years of suffering and trial, the result it may be, as it is undoubtedly, of a defeat in a bad cause, lend your aid in relieving them from the oppression of a hungry set of adventurers who would be powerless without the strong power of the Federal Government to sustain them in their career of robbery and plunder? I speak to you as one who has seen and witnessed and realized the blighting effects of the present policy of hate pursued towards the South. No person advocated more strenuously the prosecution of the most vigorous measures to put down armed resistance to the Government than myself; but now that I know and am assured from my own experience and intercourse with that people, that they are willing to accept the full results of the situation and labor for the common good of the whole country, I would make one earnest appeal to the intelligence, the patriotism, the Christian charity of all my friends and fellow-citizens. I would ask them to remember their former associations, and not suffer insidious appeals and false representations to blind their reason and to cloud their judgment. We all are one great family of brothers; we have toiled and striven at an infinite cost of treasure and of blood to secure equal rights and equal privileges to all our citizens. Do not, for the mere sake of perpetuating party power, and aiding an Administration which would continue and sanction the present most unwise, injudicious, illiberal and oppressive policy toward the intelligent and governing classes of the Southern community, permit yourselves to be led astray and forget that you are men and Christians, and that the love and sympathy, which, in your hour of prosperity, you extend to your suffering brethren, shall be returned to you in like manner, and with a four-fold increase.

Will those who labored earnestly to bring about this final work of reconciliation and of peace be discouraged by the results of the recent elections? Our opponents tell us and boast that they have real resources, with the whole power of the United States Treasury at their back. They even laugh at the success they have achieved through means of their enormous frauds! We know well that these means are their main strength, and without their army of office-holders and swarms of leeches and large corruption fund, they would be powerless for harm. They can spend $1,000 where you can $1. But does all this make General Grant any wiser or better or more fit to be President, or afford any reason for continuing this ungenerous and cruel treatment of the South? Does the manipulation of thousands of purchased votes endow Grant with more knowledge, or make Greeley less liberal in his opinions, or less an advocate of honest reform and whole-souled magnanimity? I do hope and trust you will not lay down your arms or cease your exertions, but work from this time forward, with renewed vigor, and with an earnest zeal and perseverance. The adversary cannot concentrate his efforts or scatter his money as profusely over thirty-seven States as over two or three. The South will take their key-note from Georgia, and the North from Indiana. Still you must work without ceasing, and without money. If you do this with all your heart and with all your soul, and with all your mind, and with all your strength, I tell you you can win. Will you do it? I say to all, have faith, and faith, with work, will enable you to conquer over all the hosts of the enemy. Forward, then, to the fight!

I assure you that a careful study of the Southern character from an experience of two winters, enables me to speak to you with a certainty and conviction of truth, to which I could not otherwise pretend. Let the Southern people at least have the trial of conducting their own affairs the same as ourselves without Federal interference or carpet-bag intolerance. They would not have slavery again if they could, and you know well they could not if they would. In a word, they ask for an equal chance with their former slaves, and not to be ruled by that class, ignorant and imposed upon by base adventurers, backed by the powers of the Administration. They cry in earnest truth, in this their hour of poverty, begotten of misrule and oppression. "Let us have peace," a permanent, substantial peace, and not such a "tragedy in Warsaw." The property and prosperity of the South are those of the North as well. Then with Greeley and Brown, their former adversaries, now their friends, our understanding will be more complete, our harmony more perfect, our interests united, our hopes more exalted and promising, and reconciliation, justice and our future happiness will be sooner, surer and best promoted. Thus thinks and speaks.

AN OLD-LINE REPUBLICAN.

The Grant party are running the canvass on purely commercial principles. Votes are made a cash transaction. Without money and bribery the concern would not last a week.
